

THE CHRISTIAN FUNERAL GUIDE

REV. MARCUS MACKAY,
SENIOR PASTOR

REV. AARON SCHULTZ,
HEADMASTER & ASSOCIATE PASTOR

ADVENT
EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH AND SCHOOL

GENERAL NOTES

1. The Funeral Service is intended for the burial of those who departed this life in the Christian faith and includes a Service at the church as well as a Committal at the place of interment.
2. The death of a member of Advent Evangelical Lutheran Church should be reported immediately to the pastor(s). No arrangements should be made without consultation with him.
3. Whenever possible, the Funeral Service of baptized members is conducted at the church.
4. Hymns and music in the Funeral Service should reflect Christian confidence, trust, and hope in the resurrection of the body and the life everlasting.
5. The liturgical color for the Funeral Service is the color of the season or day.
6. Floral arrangements express the Christian hope in the resurrection of the body. It is preferable that they not be placed on the casket or altar during the Funeral Service.
7. The Funeral Service may be used as a Memorial Service by omitting the "Placing of the Pall" and its rubric before the Nunc Dimittis.
8. A eulogy is not in the best Christian tradition within a Christian Service. An obituary may be read which focuses on the Gospel promise of salvation by grace alone through faith alone in Christ our Lord, and not on the good deeds of the deceased. The funeral luncheon is a better occasion to eulogize and share memories!
9. Appropriate messages of Christian condolence may be given after the Lord's Prayer.
10. The ceremonies or tributes of social or other societies have no place within the service of the Church. Civic and military ceremonies or tributes should be held after the service of the Church, normally following the Committal.

CHURCH SERVICE NOTES

1. The “Funeral Service” from our hymnal, the Lutheran Service Book, is used as found on page 278.
2. A hymn or psalm may be sung or said, or appropriate organ or instrumental music may be played as the pastor leads the casket and the bereaved into the church. When there is no procession, the service begins when the pastor takes his customary place.
3. The procession into the church may be in this order: cross, torches, assisting ministers, pastor(s), casket and pallbearers, the bereaved, and other honored guests.
4. Prior to the service, the lighted paschal candle is placed near the center of the chancel, preferably near the head of the casket. When torches are included in the procession, they may be placed at the head and foot of the casket. The cross is placed in its customary place.
5. The casket is positioned before the altar at right angles to it. It is customary that the foot of the casket is positioned closest to the altar. For the funeral of a pastor, the head of the casket is positioned closest to the altar.
6. When the Invocation and Remembrance of Baptism are conducted at the entrance to the nave, the congregation stands and faces the entrance of the church. Following the Remembrance of Baptism, the pall is placed on the casket, and the procession proceeds into the nave during the Introit, Psalm, or Entrance Hymn.
7. The Kyrie may be spoken as provided in the rite, or a setting of the Kyrie familiar to the congregation may be sung.
8. Readings may include those previously used by the pastor in his ministry to the deceased. Readings of the Sunday or season in the Church Year may also be used.
9. A choice of psalms is provided for the Introit and Gradual (see Appendix).
10. The Verse may be spoken or sung as provided in the rite, or a setting familiar to the congregation may be used.
11. When an obituary is read, it may be read in connection with the Sermon. Examples are provided in the Appendix.
12. When there is Holy Communion, the Prayer of the Church in the Funeral Service is followed by the Offertory and communion liturgy according to one of the settings of the Divine Service. Following the Distribution, the Funeral Service continues with the Nunc Dimittis in the Funeral Service.
13. The Funeral Service does not conclude at church, but rather at the place of committal.
14. The procession out of the church forms in the same order as it entered. The cross may be taken to the place of committal.
15. The pall is removed at the church door and left in the church.

COMMITTAL NOTES

1. The Committal is used for interment in a place previously set apart for burial. When burial is in a public cemetery, the collect for the blessing of a grave is used. The Committal is also appropriate for the disposition of a body at sea.
2. In the case of cremation, the ashes are to be buried or interred at a cemetery plot, mausoleum, crypt, or columbarium. The practice of scattering the ashes of the deceased to the elements is discouraged among Christians.
3. When circumstances require that burial occur at a later date, the Committal may include a sermon following the Scripture reading(s). The Apostles' Creed may also be confessed.
4. When feasible, the procession to the place of burial may form in the same order as at the Funeral Service, led by the processional cross. At the very least, the Pastor leads the casket and bereaved to the place of burial.
5. The pastor may remain with the casket at the graveside until all the bereaved have left the cemetery as a sign of the eternal presence of Christ with the departed.
6. When the deceased was a member of the armed forces, military honors may follow the Committal.
7. If sand or earth is used during the Committal, it is never poured directly on the national flag. The head of the casket may be slightly uncovered for the application of the sand/earth, after which the head of the casket may again be covered.

COMMITTAL & PRAYER LORD'S PRAYER

BENEDICTION

I. WHO MAY RECEIVE A CHRISTIAN BURIAL

We must realize that the Pastors are ready and eager to bring the Gospel to anyone and everyone! However, the funeral is a worship service to our God and it is a witness to the life that the deceased confessed by lip and by action.

Christian funerals are worship services of Christian people, NOT a matter of doing personal favors for families. The Pastor does not officiate merely to satisfy or please people. Some ministers will conduct funerals whenever asked to do so, thinking they will have the opportunity to reach the living. They have forgotten that Christian burial is a privilege for those who have fallen asleep in Jesus and have believed, as witnessed by what they confessed by words and deeds, that they believe in the God of the resurrection, the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

All who have turned away from the word of God while they were living should not, according to Scripture, be accorded this privilege. Jesus says in Luke 9:60: “LET THE DEAD BURY THEIR OWN DEAD, BUT YOU GO AND PROCLAIM THE KINGDOM OF GOD.” That is, let the spiritually dead, those who do not follow Jesus by faith, let them bury their own dead. It is a word of law to those who live and believe contrary to Jesus’ teaching of the forgiveness of sins alone in Him. And therefore, Jesus says “IF YOU ABIDE IN MY WORD, YOU ARE MY DISCIPLES INDEED” (John 8:31). One who does not “abide” or “remain” with Jesus, hear His Word, is not one of Jesus’ sheep (John 10:27).

No Christian pastor or congregation can afford to pretend in life and death matters; those who have turned away from the Word, Christ, and the church while they were alive gain nothing from hypocrisy at death. “FOR...THE WORD PREACHED DID NOT PROFIT THEM, NOT BEING MIXED WITH FAITH IN THEM THAT HEARD IT” (Heb. 4: 2,3)

Advent Evangelical Lutheran Church does rejoice when another one of God’s children is transported from the church militant to the church of glory and triumph above. We confess that the deceased is still our brother or sister; a true member of Christ’s Holy Body, the church; one who lived and died in the faith; and one whom we sincerely expect to meet again in glory. And we join the family of the deceased in their sorrow, but also rejoice with them that their loved one has been graciously delivered from this vale of tears to the heavenly city above.

And we stress that the hour of departure from this life shall come to all men; therefore, we must cling ever more tightly to the Word and the Sacraments. For Satan “PROWLs AROUND LIKE A ROARING LION, SEEKING WHOM HE MAY DEVOUR” (1Peter 5:8).

II. THE PASTORS OF ADVENT EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH, BEAR A PROPER AND POSITIVE WITNESS TO THE GOSPEL WHEN THEY OFFICIATES AT FUNERALS USING THE FOLLOWING GUIDELINES:

1. The deceased was a member in good standing of Advent Evangelical’s congregation. Members residing out of town for various reasons (Armed Forces, college, retirement residence, etc.) would also be buried by the Pastors of Advent by virtue of their membership in good standing (regular church attendance or regular reception of the Lord's Supper).

Where the above may not apply in full to the deceased, the survivor(s) may affirm that the deceased died as a Christian, that is, the deceased confessed that he was sorry for his sins and that Christ was his Savior from his sins.

2. The deceased was a member in good standing of a sister congregation in the Missouri Synod. The survivor(s) stated valid reasons for the wish of the deceased to be buried here.
3. The deceased was a non-member who was in the process of becoming a member; or the deceased was a person to whom the Pastor has ministered and who seems to have departed this life in the Christian faith.
4. The deceased was not a member of a lodge or any secret society that goes against the doctrine and practice of the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod.
5. Exceptional cases of non-members and other situations will be reviewed by a representative group of elders at the request of the Pastor. The elders may grant the requested permission in the case of a non-member, if, for example, the survivors affirm that the deceased died a Christian, that is, with faith in Jesus Christ alone as Savior.

III. PURPOSE OF A CHRISTIAN FUNERAL

1. This is a time to hear the comforting words of the Gospel of Jesus Christ;
2. A time to proclaim to all the power and grace of God and He is the God of the resurrection;
3. To remember our hope that as Jesus rose from the dead, we will too as children of the resurrection;
4. We need to give public witness to our joy, faith and hope in Christ our Lord;
5. We need to be comforted with the assurance of our reunion with our loved ones in the resurrection;
6. To know that we can face death because Christ has taken the sting out of death and has delivered us from the power of sin, death, and the devil;
7. To praise our God for His faithfulness in keeping all His promises even the promise death is not the end, but an entering of eternal glory with Him above.

IV. INITIAL PROCEDURES TO GUIDE YOU

1. Call the Pastor whenever there is an illness so he can bring the comfort of the Gospel to the sick or dying in the family.
2. When death occurs, notify the Pastor prior to calling the funeral director if at all possible. This will allow time for consultation about the specific funeral plans without outside influence or pressure.
3. A funeral should be conducted in the Church if it is possible. This is the time for the Christian to gather around God's Word, sing praises and give thanks to Him. This is a time of worship in hearing God's Word and responding with songs of praise and hope.
4. If the family member was not a member of Advent Evangelical Lutheran Church, or a sister LC-MS congregation, please consult with Pastor because funerals for non-members are not permitted in the Nave of the church. Special consideration can be given upon approval by Pastor and the Elders.

5. The casket may be open until the start of the worship service. From then on our eyes need to be focused on God's word of hope and strength, God's Gospel, not the face of death.
6. Arrangements of the funeral service.
 - a. The funeral director and Pastor will contact each other to avoid conflicts of schedules, etc.
 - b. The Pastor is in charge of the worship service including the final approval of the selection of the music. Some music may be nice and even pleasant, but not in line with God's Scripture and confusing Law and Gospel. Hymns of comfort, of faith in Christ, and the resurrection (Easter Hymns) are very appropriate to sing.
7. The Order of Service will follow the Lutheran Service Book Agenda unless specifically arranged with the Pastor.
8. The Worship service and burial service shall not include any participation by secular groups. Excepted is the case of military funerals, where Taps and salutes by comrades in arms are permitted, provided there be no orations.
9. Unionistic services, where officials of other beliefs participate, shall not be permitted.
10. Memorial gifts may be given to the church memorial fund or to the Foundation Fund.
11. Picture memorials may be set up in the Narthex, the Library and/or the Fellowship Hall for viewing during the Visitation and/or Luncheon.

FEES:

- a. Funerals are a regular part of pastoral care to you and the Pastor expects no fee from his members. However, an honorarium in appreciation for the time and effort of the Pastor is always appropriate ($150-250).
- b. The congregation organist shall be given an honorarium for his/her time and effort ($150).
- c. If special Pastor-approved music is purchased by the organist or the soloist, they will be reimbursed for the cost of the material.
- d. If a lunch is to be served, please speak with the Pastor to make arrangements.

V. OTHER POINTS TO CONSIDER:

1. A Memorial Service

Since a Christian funeral is a worship service of the congregation and because services held in the morning or the afternoon may permit only a small circle of friends to attend, the idea of a memorial service is growing among Christians.

A Memorial service held at the church in the evening either before or after the graveside service can be a very wonderful testimony of a congregation to its hope of the resurrection in Christ and its oneness as His body of believers.

It should be mentioned that it is not improper to leave the body of the deceased unattended in the church for the evening of the Memorial service. It is also not necessary for the body to be present during a memorial service. A memorial service may be done in case of a still-born baby. He/she was one of God's wonderful creations and a part of that family's life. It is a wonderful way to leave all these mysterious happenings in the hands of Him who knows all things. It is also a time to renew faith and trust in Jesus.

2. Consider your choice of grave markers:

By your choice of design and inscription on the monument or marker over a Christian grave, we can witness to our faith and show what St. Paul meant when he wrote: "FOR ME TO LIVE IS CHRIST, AND TO DIE IS GAIN" (Phil. 1:21).

The custom of monument or the newer type marker over a grave stems from the love expressed in the first book of the Bible: "AND JACOB SET A PILLAR ON HER GRAVE, WHICH IS THE PILLAR OF RACHEL'S GRAVE TO THIS DAY" (Genesis 35: 20).

MONUMENTS & MARKERS SHOULD AIM BY DESIGN & EPITAPH TO:

1. Reflect our Christian knowledge and hope;
2. Serve as a God-pleasing tribute to our departed loved ones at home with God;
3. Stimulate hope and comfort in the hearts of those who mourn.

DESIGNS:

CROSS	—symbol of the finished redemption
ROSE	—symbol of our Lord, love, and hope
IVY	—symbol of memory "I will not forget you."
VIOLET	—symbol of faithfulness - "God is faithful"
LILY	—symbol of heaven - "In Your presence is fullness of joy."
NARCISSUS	—symbol of grace
SEASHELL	—symbol of Baptism

Other symbols with obvious meanings: The Guardian Angel, a Lamb, a vine with grape cluster, open Bible, Morning of Glory, etc.

SUGGESTIONS

1. Some Christians have determined to set aside a percentage of their estate for the work of Christ.
2. Some Christians remember God's command to "Make disciples of all nations" by putting aside a portion of God's treasures that He has given into their will. By so doing, they testify to God's goodness and mercy and to the necessity of proclaiming the Gospel to the world.
